2025 NOTABLES

- Extending its streak as the nation's only program to have participated in all 24 NCAA Championships since the event's inception in 2001, Stanford is chasing its 10th NCAA title in school history and third in the past four seasons. The Cardinal, which is bidding for its first NCAA crown since repeating in 2022-23, also captured NCAA championships in 2019, 2017, 2015, 2014, 2012, 2011 and 2002.
- Stanford posted a dominant opening-round victory, matching its school scoring record in a 28-6 rout of Wagner. The Cardinal had produced a school-record 28 goals on two previous occasions, both during its 1997 campaign in wins against Whittier (28-2 on March 26) and Oregon (28-3 on April 25). Stanford, which had defeated Wagner 24-4 back on Feb. 8 at the Midwest Invite, reached the 20-goal mark for the fifth time this season and first time in NCAA play since 2023. Juliette Dhalluin, Maggie Hawkins, Ryann Neushul, Alissa Pascual and Ella Woodhead all completed hat tricks for Stanford, which received goals from 13 different players. For the 11th time this season, at least 10 different players scored at least one goal.
- Ryann Neushul's go-ahead overtime goal completed a hat trick, powering Stanford past UCLA 11-9 on April 27 as the Cardinal captured its eighth MPSF title and third in the past four seasons after repeating in 2022-23. The Cardinal also won the MPSF championship in 2014, 2006, 2003, 2001 and 2000. There have been three seasons in which the Cardinal has won both the MPSF and NCAA titles (2014, 2022, 2023). Jewel Roemer added an insurance goal in overtime while MPSF Tournament MVP Christine Carpenter matched a career high with 13 saves.
- Stanford has enjoyed yet another dominant season in 2025, producing one of only four 15-0 starts in school history. The Cardinal swept its three meetings against defending NCAA champion UCLA, including a 14-4 rout on Feb. 22 which represented its largest margin of victory ever against the Bruins. Despite suffering its only loss – a 12-11 defeat – at USC on March 29, the Cardinal also defeated the Trojans 10-6 in the Barbara Kalbus Invitational championship on Feb. 23, securing its third tournament title in the last four seasons and seventh overall.
- The Cardinal has overpowered its opponents, pairing a balanced offense with a suffocating defense. Stanford has scored at least 10 goals in every game this season and 391 overall, good for an average of 16.2 per game. Perhaps the best indication of Stanford's depth is that six players have scored at least 25 goals this season. The Cardinal has also looked sharp on the defensive side of the pool, with its 157 goals allowed representing the fewest total of any school in the nation. Stanford has allowed double-digit goals only four times.
- Stanford was well represented with five All-MPSF postseason award selections, highlighted by Ryann Neushul being named the conference's Player of the Year. Neushul led the way with a spot on the first team while Christine Carpenter, Jenna Flynn and Jewel Roemer earned spots on the second team. Juliette Dhalluin was tabbed an honorable mention pick. Stanford was awarded at least five all-conference recipients for the sixth time over the last seven seasons. Headlining the selections was Neushul, who became Stanford's eighth all-time MPSF Player of the Year recipient. Neushul, who is bidding to become the first four-time NCAA team champion in school history, recently increased her career goal total to 226 while moving into a tie with Aria Fischer (2018-19, 2022-23) for fifth place on the Cardinal's all-time list.
- In 2024, Stanford was without five players who were taking a leave of absence and redshirt year to train and compete with their respective national teams for the Paris Summer Olympics. All-Americans Jenna Flynn, Ryann Neushul and Jewel Roemer joined Ella Woodhead in training for Team USA while Serena Browne competed for Canada. Each player has returned in 2025, significantly enhancing Stanford's depth. Flynn (60 goals), Neushul (58) and Roemer (45) are Stanford's top three scorers. Woodhead and Browne have combined for 50 goals.
- Jenna Flynn, Ryann Neushul and Jewel Roemer have been named to the Peter J. Cutino Award Watch List. Stanford, which leads the nation with three selections, has boasted seven players combining to win the award 10 times and most recently in 2023 (Aria Fischer).
